

Marina And The Diamonds - About Love

My head gets messy when I try to hide
                           tom:
                                                              The things I love about you in my mind
            F C
Started in the strangest way
                                                              I don't really know a lot about love
Didn't see it coming
                                                              A lot about love, a lot about love
Swept up in your hurricane
                                                              But you're in my head, you're in my blood
Wouldn't give it up?for?nothing
                                                                                   Am
                                                              And it feels so good to hurt so much
Now I'm all?caught up in the highs and?the lows
                                                              I don't really know a lot about love
It's a shock to my system
        C G
                                                              A lot about love, a lot about love
I don't wanna run away so I stayed
                                                              But you're in my head, you're in my blood
My head gets messy when I try to hide F C G Am
                                                              And it feels so good to hurt so much
The things I love about you in my mind
                                                              Oh-oh-oh, ooh-ooh-ooh
I don't really know a lot about love
                                                              Oh-oh-oh, ooh-ooh-ooh
A lot about love, a lot about love
                                                              F C G Am
                                                              Oh-oh-oh, ooh-ooh-ooh
But you're in my head, you're in my blood
                                                              But you're in my head, you're in my blood
And it feels so good to hurt so much
                                                               G Am
                                                              And it feels so good to hurt so much
I don't really know a lot about love
                                                                           С
                                                              My head gets messy when I try to hide F \qquad C \qquad G \qquad Am
A lot about love, a lot about love
But you're in my head, you're in my blood
                                                              The things I love about you in my mind
I don't really know a lot about love
It feels so good to hurt so much F \qquad C \qquad Am
                                                              A lot about love, a lot about love
Oh-oh-oh, ooh-ooh-ooh
F C G Am
                                                              But you're in my head, you're in my blood
Oh-oh-oh, ooh-ooh-ooh
F C G Am
                                                              And it feels so good to hurt so much
Oh-oh-oh, ooh-ooh-ooh
                                                              I don't really know a lot about love
But you're in my head, you're in my blood
                                                              A lot about love, a lot about love
And it feels so good to hurt so much
                                                                                С
                                                              But you're in my head, you're in my blood
Think about the time it took for our paths to cross
                                                              And it feels so good to hurt so much
Read me like an open book
                                                              Oh-oh-oh, ooh-ooh-ooh
I was found and lost
                                                              Oh-oh-oh, ooh-ooh-ooh
Now I'm all caught up in the highs and the lows
                                                              Oh-oh-oh, ooh-ooh-ooh
               Am
It's a shock to my system
                          G
                                                              But you're in my head, you're in my blood
I know that our love was fate, so I stayed
                                                              And it feels so good to hurt so much
