

Marsheaux - Inhale

tom:

I woke up old today and so in pain
 I have to talk about things I can't explain
 I am feeling freeze and cold and about to explode
 I try so hard to breathe but the air is gone
 I need to breathe, to run and fly away

I am feeling suffocated, trapped and afraid
 I need a dream, to take my fears away
 I'm running out of time, so shake me to inhale
 I want to scream until I have no voice
 I need to cry, to laugh, to feel a noise
 I'm feeling bold and cold and about to explode
 I try so hard to breathe and the fear is gone
