

Mary J. Blige - Therapy

Tom: G

Why would I spend the rest of my days unhappy
 Why would I spend the rest of this year alone

When I can go therapy

When I can go therapy

When I can go therapy two times a day

Why would I spend the rest of this week so bitter
 And all that listening is making you bitter too

When I can go therapy

When I can go therapy

When I can go therapy two times a day

I don't wanna be around me

And I don't blame you if you blocking all my calls

Been no ups since I been sleeping soundly

Most nights I lie awake between two and four

Work is stressing me out

And after all this time
 It's still never enough

Why would I spend the rest of my days unhappy
 Why would I spend the rest of this year alone

When I can go therapy

When I can go therapy

When I can go therapy two times a day

When I can go therapy two times a day

I care more about what you think

Than I care about the music

When I get cross with you

I'm surprised you care at all

I figure if I had a life time of time left

Well, shame on me if I don't get to use it well

Yea, I'm stressing you out

And at the way is going you need it more than me

Why would I spend the rest of my days unhappy
 Why would I spend the rest of this year alone

When I can go therapy

When I can go therapy

When I can go therapy two times a day

When I can go therapy two times a day

Someone help me
 Turn around
 I'm a victim
 Hate the sound of my own voice
 Turn it down

And all I do is aggravate ya

Why would I spend the rest of my days so bitter
 And all that listening is making you bitter too

When I can go therapy

When I can go therapy

When I can go therapy two times a day

When I can go therapy two times a day

Acordes

