

Mayday Parade - When I Get Home You're So Dead

```
with his hands on your hips
                                                                 Am
                                                       I hope he's leaving you empty
The words are coming I feel terrible baby this is just a fix
Is it typical for us to end like this Dm (hold) Dm (hold)
                                                       For such a simple little whore
   Am
Am I just another scene
                                                       (Repeat Chorus 1)
From a movie that you've seen 100 times
    Am
Cause baby you weren't the first
                                                       And your name
or the last or the worst remains the same
And I've got to fill the blanks
                                                        Am
in the past with a verse
                                                       All that has changed
                                                           F Dm
And we could sit around and cry
          Am
                                                       is this pretty face
         F
but frankly you're not worth it Anymore
                                                       So pull the trigger
                                                       It never gets closer
Bass Line: entering "movie that you've seen"
G | ------
                                                       You want to start over
                                                        Dm (Bass line)
But never start over
E|-----
                                                       pull the trigger
Chorus 1:
                                                       It never gets closer
So say hello to all the boys at
                                                       You want to start over
                               Em F G G
          G
                                                         Dm
the top of this table that your under
                                                       But never start over
Lipstick lullabies
                                                       Bass line: In : never start over:
                        Em F G G
This is sorry for the last time
                                                       D|-----5/10--9--7-|
                                                       A | -5--5--5-----
      Am
                                                       E|-----i
And baby I understand that you're making new friends
                                                      Chorus 2:
   G Em F G G
                                                       Am (silence)
                                                       Am (silence)
So say hello to all the boys at
Em Em F F
This is how you get by Am F
The moral this time is
                                                       the top of this table that your under
G Em F G G
                                                       Am (hold)
Girls make boys cry
                                                       Lipstick lullabies
                                                                                Em F G G
Interlude: Am F Dm
                                                       This is sorry for the last time
                                                       And baby I understand that Bass Line:
                                                       you're making new friends
A | -0---0h3-2-0---5-5-j
E|-----|
                                                       This is how you get by Am F
                                                       The moral this time is Verse 2:
                                                       G Em F G G
                                                       On any other day I'd shoot
                                                      Say hello say hello
the boy but your simple toy
       Dm
                                                       Lipstick lullabies
Had caused a scene like this
                                                            Dm
      Am
Leave him hanging on the walls
                                                       This is sorry for the last time
Just a picture in the hall
                                                       And baby I understand that
                Dm
Like 100 more (like 100 more)
                                                       you're making new friends
G Em
     Am
Consider this as a gift as
                                                                        Em F G G
                                                       This is how you get by Am F
you taste him on your lips
                                                       The moral this time is
      Dm
And he's making you scream
                                                          Em FGG
                                                       Girls make boys cry
```

Acordes

