

McFly - Dragon Ball

Tom: B

Intro:

Picking up the pieces of my heart left on the floor
 Like it was written in the stars that I was meant for something more

Now I'm the one man I'll be fighting everybody's war
 Will I survive? I must survive...

The world is on my shoulders so much pressure to prevail
 This is the story of my life and its a sad and lonely tale
 So what's the point in trying if your destiny's to fail
 You won't survive, but I must survive

I'm on the run from everyone where moons and suns collide

My back's up against the wall I'll never fall When I find all the dragon balls

Nights alone and restless they're just always somewhere near
 And I'm not saying I'm a hero but I'm prepared to face the fear

We will send the evil running When they hear my army jail
 We will survive 'cuz we will survive

I'm on the run from everyone where moons and suns collide

My back's up against the wall I'll never fall When I find all the dragon balls

Evil it's not forgiving we will never give in until we're not living Do you hear me?
 Evil it's not forgiving we will never give in until we're not living Can you hear me? (2x)

I'm on the run from everyone where moons and suns collide

My back's up against the wall I'll never fall When I find all the dragon balls
