McFly - Dragon Ball

Tom: B

Intro:

```
  B                              Gb
Picking up the pieces of my heart left on the floor
         Abm                                  E
Like it was written in the stars that I was meant for something more
  Em
Now I'm the one man I'll be fighting everybody's war
          Gb
Will I survive? I must survive...

     B                              Gb
The world is on my shoulders so much pressure to prevail
         Abm                           E
This is the story of my life and its a sad and lonely tale
     Em                                 B      Abm
So what's the point in trying if your destiny's to fail
         Gb                        Eb
You won't survive, but I must survive

     E             B                  Gb
Abm  Gb Abm
I'm on the run from everyone where moons and suns collide
                  E              B            Gb
Eb
My back's up against the wall I'll never fall When I find all the dragon balls
```

```
     B                                          Gb
Nights alone and restless they're just always somewhere near Abm                          E
And I'm not saying I'm a hero but I'm prepared to face the fear
             Em                                       B   Abm
We will send the evil running When they hear my army jail
          Gb                    Eb
We will survive 'cuz we will survive

          E            B                  Gb
Abm    Gb Abm
I'm on the run from everyone where moons and suns collide
                     E              B            Gb
Eb
My back's up against the wall I'll never fall When I find all
the dragon balls

B                     Gb                      Abm
E
Evil it's not forgiving we will never give in until we're not living Do you hear me?
Evil it's not forgiving we will never give in until we're not living Can you hear me? (2x)

          E            B                  Gb
Abm    Gb Abm
I'm on the run from everyone where moons and suns collide
                     E              B            Gb
Eb
My back's up against the wall I'll never fall When I find all
the dragon balls
```
Acordes

B   Gb   Abm   E   Em   Eb