

Megadeth - 1000 Times Goodbye

```
Tom: E
                                                                                                                                                 1st ending
      Tning: Standard
                                                                                                                                                 2nd ending
Riff 1
Guitar 1
                                                                             x7
                                                                                                                                                 Riff 9 (Solo Rhythm)
Guitar 2 (comes in after awhile)
Riff 2
                                                                                                                                                 Riff 10
                                                                                                                                                                                 x4
Play Riff 1 3x, then Riff 2. Do this 3 times.
                                                                                                                                                 Solo
Riff 3
    "The tides of change..."
    "I feel a familiar pain..."
Riff 4
    "I did no right, you did no wrong..."
                                                                                                                                                                                          x3
Riff 5 (Solo Rhythm)
                                                                       x4
                                                                                                                                                                                    x8
                                                                                                                                                                                                                      8x
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        x8
Solo
                                                                                                                                                                                    x4
                                                                                                                                                                                                                      x4
Riff 6
                                                                                                                                                                                                                      8x
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        x8
    "Goodbye, 1000 times goodbye..."
    "The thought never crossed my mind..."
                                                                                                                                                                                                                      x3
                                                                                                                                                                                    x4
    "That this would be my last goodbye..."
                                                                                                                                                 e | -22b24 - -22b24 -
                                                                                                                                                 -22b24-|
                                                                                                                                                                          -----
                                                                                                                                                B|----
Play Riff 3
                                "It seems nothing good..."
Play Riff 4
                                "I did no right, you did no wrong..."
                                                                                                                                                 G|-[hold the note a little before bending]-----
Play Riff 5
                                Solo Rhythm
                                                                                                                                                               .....
                                                                                                                                                 D | - - - -
Solo
                                                                                                                                                 A | - - -
                                                                                                                                                                      ......
Play Riff 6
                                "Goodbye, 1000 times goodbye..."
Riff 7
                                                                                                                                                 e|-22b24r22--22b23~-22b23~-22b23~-
    "Goodbye, 1000 times goodbye..."
                                                                                                                                                B|-[slow release]-----
    "The thought never crossed..."
                                                                                                                                                Dj-----
                                                                                                                                                 A | -----
    "That this would be my last goodbye..."
                                                                                                                                                Riff 3a (Play 2x)
    "Let me put pennies on your eyes..."
    "And kiss your lips one last goodbye..."
                                                                                                                                                     "Goodbye....a 1000 times..."
    "My love, a 1000 times goodbye..."
                                                                                                                                                 Riff 3b
Riff 8
Guitar 1
                                                                                                                                                   "Goodbye....a 1000 times..."
                                                                                                                                                 Ending Solo
Guitar 2
                                                                                                                                                 Ending
```

Notation:

10b12 = pick the 10th fret, then bend to the 12th fret. = mute with fret-hand 10b12r10 = pick the 10th fret, then bend to the 12th fret, = palm mute X\\ = pick slide h = hammer-on then release to the 10th fret. [10]12r10 = bend to the 12th fret from the 10th fret, pick, then release to the 10th fret. = pull-off 10b12 [14] = pick the 14th fret while holding the previous vibrato = finger tap = slide up = slide down 10b15 = tremolo bar bend, from the 10th fret to the 15th = natural harmonics fret. h 7d2 = tremolo bar dive, from the 7th fret to the 2nd artificial harmonics fret. = ghost note tm = trem picking
tr = trill = tremolo bar vibrato. 12~

Acordes

