

Michael Kiske - The King Of It All

tom:

Intro: G
 I've been had once again
 The old betrayer did win
 Felt small I thought to give in
 And now I sleep with my sin

You say I just fly
 On wings I have borrowed
 I'm loaded to try
 To shoot you with my sorrow

I'm alone tonight
 No one there in sight
 And I die to be the king of it all
 To become the laugh of all rise and fall
 Yes so tall
 You'll be the one that will bleed
 If I fall over my feet
 The love you need you must breed
 The hate we build cuts so deep

If I could I sure would
 Be all that you needed

It would all feel so good
 But it doesn't come easy

I'm alone tonight
 No one there in sight
 And I die to be the king of it all
 To become the laugh of all rise and fall
 Yes so tall
 Your common sense is no defense sometimes
 And if it ends all what it meant stays mine!

 To become the laugh of all rise and fall
 Yes so tall
