Verse:

F2(no3) C2(no3)
 Another question in me. One for the powers that be
 F2(no3) Am
 It's got me thrown and so I put on my poker face
 F2(no3) C2(no3)
 And try to figure it out. This undeniable doubt
 F2(no3) Am
 A common occurrence. Feeling so out of place
 F2(no3) C2(no3)
 Guarded and cynical now, can't help but wondering how
 F2(no3) Am Dm
 My heart evolved into a rock beating inside of me
 F C2(no3) Am
 So I reel such a stoic ordeal where's that feeling that I don't feel?

Chorus:

Fm Db7
 There was a boy who had the faith to move a mountain
 Ab Cm
 And like a child he would believe without a reason
 Fm Db7
 Without a trace, he disappeared into the void and
 Ab Cm Db7 C#2(no3)
 I've been searchin' for that missing person

Verse 2: [Played Like Verse 1]

Under a lavender moon, so many thoughts consume me.
 Who dimmed that glowing light that once burned so bright in me?
 Is this a radical phase a problematical age
 That keeps me running from all that I used to be?
 Is there a way to return, is there a way to unlearn,

That carnal knowledge that's chipping away at my soul?
 I've been gone too long will I ever find my way home?

Chorus 2: [Played Like Chorus 1]

There was a boy who had the faith to move a mountain
 And like a child he would believe without a reason
 Without a trace, he disappeared into the void and
 I've been searchin' for that missing person
 He used to want to try to walk the strait and narrow
 He had a fire and he could feel it in the marrow
 It's been a long time and I haven't seen him lately but
 I've been searchin' for that missing person
 Db7 Ab Db7 Ab
 For that missing person For that missing person
