                                                                The folks who live on the hill
  Intro: Fdim Gb7 Bm7 Fdim E7 A7
                                                                Bridge:
                            G Edim A7 D
                                                                Gbm7 Fdim Bm7 Fdim Gbm7 Fdim Gbm7
       B7 Em7
                                                                Our veranda will command a view of meadows green
Someday,
              we'll build a home on a hilltop high, you and
                                                                   Fdim Gb7 Bm7 Fdim E7 A7

                                                                The sort of view that seems to want to be seen
                            A7/13- D B7 G
          B7 Em7
                                                                A7 Em7 A7 G A7/13- D
Shiny and new, a cottage that two can fill
                                                                And when the kids grow up and leave us
           Gdim D B7 G
                                                                          G Edim A7 D B7 Em7
                                                                We'll sit and look at that same old view, just we two D B7 Em7 G A7/13- D B7 G
And we'll be pleased to be called
            A7 Em7 A7 D B7 G A7
                                                                Baby and Joe, who used to be Jack and Jill Gdim D B7 G
The folks who live on the hill
D B7 Em7 G Edim A7 D B7 Em7 Edim Someday, we may add a wing or two, a thing or two D B7 Em7 A7/13- D B7 G

We will make changes, as any family will Gdim D B7 G

But we will always be called
                                                                The folks who like to be called
                                                                              A7 Gb7
                                                                What they have always been called
                                                                 B7/13- Em7 Edim A7 D
But we will always be called
                                                                The folks who live on the hill
