Born in a poor village, a man will know hell
 He moved on, but already knew very well
 Surrounded by challenges, does not understand
 There is no one to offer a hand?
 He finds himself in trouble, but he does not back down!
 Still struggling to get his crown!
 Along the way, an enemy is blocking the gate
 And you will fight, because this is your fate!
 You don't want to cry now, because you think: It's wrong
 You were forced to be strong!
 You are still a child, and have a lot to know

Because someday you will grow!

Ready for tomorrow, you won't suffer anymore
 Climbs the mountain to reach the villains core
 And taken by surprise, their end was decreed
 Their were hit by your tremendous speed!
 With his amazing kindness, he stops the evil gears!
 Now there is nothing to fear!
 You will become a hero, with your shining blade
 So get on fight, because this is your fate!
 You don't chicken out, and bring us peace and hope

 But the wind blows all the mystery!
