

Miles Kane - Too Little Too Late

Tom: E
                                                       I'm too little too late
Intro: E D Gb E
      E D Gb E
                                                       Well I try but I can't honey
      E D Gb E
                                                        F

      E D Gb E
                                                       What can I say
                                                        A B
                                                       I'm too little to late
Give me something for the guillotine
                                                            E D Gb E
                                                       Too late
Give me something your hear
                                                            E D Gb E
                                                       Too late
Give me something for the best days of us
                                                           E D Gb E
                                                       Too late
Give me something wrapped in cellophane
                                                       [Ponte]
You say you wanna new start

                                                                          you might find
I try and I try but I can't stop
                                                       But if you tried,
                                                              E D Gb E
                                                                             E D Gb E
