

Nat King Cole - There Will Be Never Another You

```
Tom: C
                    Am7
   Cm7
           G Am7
                              Bm7
                                   E7
There will be many other nights like this,
                   D7
                                    Gm7
And I'll be standing here with someone new,
     Fm7
                   Bb7
There will be other songs to sing,
             D7 Am
 Am7
Another fall, another spring,
But there will never be another you.
```

```
G Am7
                         Am7
There will be other lips that I may kiss,
                          D7
     Am7
But they won't thrill me like yours used to do.
     Fm7
                   Bb7
Yes, I may dream a million dreams,
    Cm7 G
              D B7
But how can they come true C \, F7 \, Em7 \, A7 \, Dm7 \, G \, C \, ( \, Ab7 \, G7 \, )
If there will never ever be an-oth-er you.
        F7 Em7 A7
                      Dm7 G C
If there will never ever be an-oth-er you.
```

Acordes

