

Neck Deep - Candour

Tom: A

Intro:

Yesterday saw you missing
 Drawn to the light in the distance
 Holding her hand while she listened
 She told him how much she would miss him
 Said his goodbyes to his children
 And let the weight fade away

Am
 I have your hands
 But I have my mother's eyes
 Your tact and poise
 And her sense of wrong and right
 Heard you awake in the middle of the night
 Letting go of the things you keep inside

Worked your fingers to the bone
 To be sent home with a cardboard box
 Filled with everything you've known
 All things come to be loved and lost
 I'll keep a moment sealed in time inside a picture frame

F
 A small reminder of the days I thought would never change
C They always say it's clear to see

How parts of you shine through in me
Am I think you know, you won't be here forever
 And you're counting down the days
 'Til you can rest your tired eyes and let it slip away

F The lessons learned at your side
 Will stay with me all my life
 The man I hope to become, I know is deep down inside
F I know, you don't even need to say
 I know you're proud in your own way
F G Am I know you're proud in your own way

( F G Am C )
 And you watched me grow up
 As I watched you grow older
 The chip off your block, held me up on your shoulders
F I wish I told you yesterday
