Been Smokin' Too Long

This is a cool blues finger picking style. I hope I've got the timing about right, but the only way you'll really pick it up is by listening to the record. I've only tabbed out the intro because it's the only bit I can play accurately, but I've included the chords for the verses, and you just play them in the same sort of style. There are only really three different chords: Am, F, E, and some twiddly bits on top of those.

Standard Tuning, Capo 2nd fret.

Am Am Am

Well I wake up in the morning

Look at my clock

It's way past noon time

Now I'm late for work

[Chorus:-]

Tell me tell me

What have I done wrong?

Ain't nothin' go right with me

Must be I've been smokin' too long.

[little solo on E, E7 (bend up)]

Well I go to find me some breakfast

But I ain't got no food

Take me a shower

But the water don't feel no good

[Chorus]

I've got opium in my chimney

No other life to choose

Nightmare made of hash dreams

Got the devil in my shoes

[Chorus]

Well when I'm smokin'

Put my worries on a shelf

Don't think about nothin'

Try not to see myself

[Chorus]

Well in this blues I'm singin'

There's a lesson to be learnt

Don't go around smokin'

Unless you want to get burnt

[Chorus]

Tell me tell me

What have I done wrong?

Ain't nothin' go right with me

Must be I've been smokin' too

Ain't nothin' go right with me

Must be I've been smokin' too

Ain't nothin' go right with me

Must be I've been smokin' too long.

[Chorus]

Tell me tell me

What have I done wrong?

Ain't nothin' go right with me

Must be I've been smokin' too

Ain't nothin' go right with me

Must be I've been smokin' too

Ain't nothin' go right with me

Must be I've been smokin' too long.

[Chorus]
