

Nicholas Galitzine - The Idea Of You

```
tom:
                                                                   Gbm
Λh
                                                       So I'll wait a lifetime or two
                                                       A G Gbm
With the idea of you (The idea of)
[Primeira Parte]
                                                        Em A
                                                       To get me through
I don't even care about the rain no more
                                                        D Gbm
                                                       And even though time can be cruel
               Ab
                                                       A G Gbm
It's the idea of you (The idea of)
That's the side the effect you've had on me
                                                               Em A
[Pré-Refrão]
                                                       I'll hold on to
G Gbm Em
I used to believe in walkin' away
                                                       [Ponte]
    G Gbm
                                                       D Gbm
But there's no way to put out this flame
                                                        Ooh (Ooh)
                                                       Oh (Oh)
[Refrão]
            Gbm
                                                       A G
Oh (Ooh)
So I'll wait a lifetime or two
   A G Gbm
With the idea of you
                                                       Oh, the idea of you
  Em A
To get me through [Refrão]
D Gbm Bm
And even though time can be cruel
                                                                    Gbm
A G Gbm
It's the idea of you (The idea of)
                                                       So I'll wait a lifetime or two
                                                        A G Gbm
   Em A
                                                       With the idea of you (The idea of)
I'll hold on to
                                                         Em A
                                                       To get me through
[Segunda Parte]
                                                        D Gbm
                                                       And even though time can be cruel
                                                       A G Gbm
It's the idea of you (The idea of)
    Ab
Never even dared to write a song before
Bm Ab
                                                              Em A
Not until you put your faith in me
                                                       I'll hold on to [Pré-Refrão]
                                                       [Final]
         Gbm
                   Em
                                                                    Gbm
I used to believe that love's gonna fade
                                                       So I'll wait a lifetime or two
     G Gbm Em
                                                          A G
But there's no way to put out this flame
                                                       With the idea of you
```

Acordes

[Refrão]