

Nightwish - Gethsemane

Tom: C
Intro:

.....
Then, repeat, except for:
at the end, it goes like this:

Verse:

.....

On the second time, there is a tempo break that I can't exactly transcribe, you'll have to figure it out by yourself. The difference is that the E chord lasts a little longer.

Chorus:

Strike a D chord and go back to intro riff. Play verse again, chorus again, strike the D chord again and go to this part:

..
..

Repeat the first part, and then

A flute enters. Guitar plays this:

..

Strike Db 7 times before striking the B.

After this, repeat the whole first part again.
There's a strings part and then the guitar enters.

I'm not very sure if this strumming is correct. Good luck :P

..

This passage is very low... I'm not even sure if this is really a guitar, but I guess it is. However, if you don't play it and go straight to the C chord, no-one will notice :)

Well, after that:

..... (I won't count how many times!)
Again, only strings... (Without yooou the poetry in me... blabla)

(The harmony is played by a second guitar)

Guitar solo:

aaaaaaaah you don't expect my poor self to tab out all those fast notes, do you? The only help I can offer you is that it's in Eb major. Have a good time!

Later, after Emppu's epileptic attack, we have this:

..

Acordes
