(Primeira Parte)

The treetops, the chimneys, the snowbed stories, winter grey, wildflowers, those meadows of heaven, wind in the wheat
a railroad across waters, the scent of grandfatherly love
Blue bayous, Decembers, moon through a dragonfly's wings.

(Refrão)

Where is the wonder? Where's the awe?
Where's dear Alice knocking on the door?
Where's the trapdoor that takes me there were the real is shattered by a Mad Marsh Hare.

(Refrão 2)

Where is the wonder? Where's the awe?
Where are the sleepless nights I used to live for?
Before the years take me,
I wish to see the lost in me.

(Pós-Refrão)

I Want My Tears Back!
I want my tears back now!

(Instrumental)

A ballet on a grove, still growing young all alone.
A rag doll, a best friend, the voice of Mary Costa.

(Refrão)

Where is the wonder? Where's the awe?
Where's dear Alice knocking on the door?
Where's the trapdoor that takes me there
were the real is shattered by a Mad Marsh Hare.

(Refrão 2)

Where is the wonder? Where's the awe?
I wish to see the lost in me.

(Pós-Chorus)

I Want My Tears Back!
I want my tears back now!
