Nightwish - Where Were You Last Night

Tom: C

```
   Dm                C                    Dm
Still, spinning around in my head,
F                          C            Dm
How I regret, everything that I said.
Dm           C             Dm
Why, did I tell you to go?
F                                C              Dm
Saving my pride, but losing my soul

Dm            C
I'm here all alone,
                        F
still wait by the phone.
                       G
The hours go by,
                           A
what else could I do but to cry?

  Dm         F              C                    Dm
I call and I call just to make things right,
          F                                      C            Dm
have I lost the fight where were you last night?
                  F              C        Dm
I beg and I cry I keep asking why,
                     F                                        C
Dm
where were you last night, where were you last night?

Dm             C              Dm
Lost, in the darkening fears,
   F                          C                   Dm
If only you saw the tracks of my tears.
                  C             Dm
I think I'm losing my mind,
F                                  C                      Dm
where did you go, and what did you find?

Dm            C
I'm here all alone,
                        F
still wait by the phone.
                       G
The hours go by,
                           A
what else could I do but to cry?

  Dm         F              C                    Dm
I call and I call just to make things right,
                  F                                      C            Dm
have I lost the fight where were you last night?
                  F              C        Dm
I beg and I cry I keep asking why,
                     F                                        C
Dm
where were you last night, where were you last night?

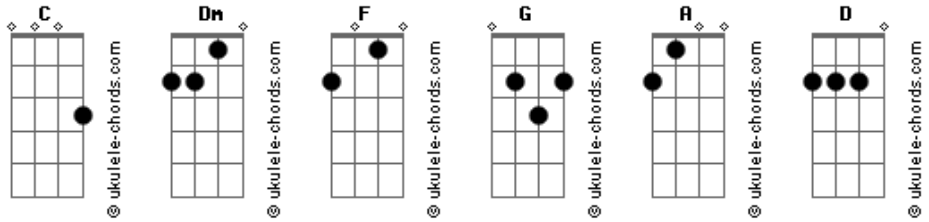
Dm            C
I'm here all alone,
                        F
still wait by the phone.
                       G
The hours go by,
                           A
what else could I do but to cry?

  Dm         F              C                    Dm
I call and I call just to make things right,
                  F                                      C            Dm
have I lost the fight where were you last night?
                     F
I beg and I cry......

  G           C               D                    G
I call and I call just to make things right,
                  C                                      D            G
have I lost the fight where were you last night?
                  C               D        G
I beg and I cry I keep asking why,
                     C                                        D
G
where were you last night, where were you last night?

                           C
D          G
Where were you last night, where were you last night?
```

Acordes



Oferecimento Lojalele.com.br