Wanna make my eyes shut
But I've just come in half cut
                                                              We're on the seesaw but I'm the one to fall and I know I won't sleep tonight
                                                              Keep going down down down
                                                                         G
I just wanna call you up
                                                              We're on the seesaw but I'm the one to fall
                                                                     Em
But tonight I really fucked it up
                                                              Keep going down down down
Cause I can't ever do things right
                                                                     Em
                                                              And my words came tumbling out
Tonight we're sat on the seesaw watching me fall just as you turn around I can see by your frown Down
                                                              you're leaving me to drown
                                                                                           G
We are not equal what I did was evil
                                                              Head is spinning now like a merry go round
Like cheating in the playground
                                                              But this love Is not a playground

Next morning I wake up
                                                              Down down down I'm falling,
                                                                   C D falling down
My eyes still caked it make up
I can't believe I said those things to you

                                                              Down down down I'm falling
Baby I didn't mean to but it's pointless trying to prove to ya
                                                              Down down down I'm falling,
It's only something alcohol may do
                                                                   C D
                                                              falling down
                                                              On the seesaw
Tonight we're sat on the seesaw watching me fall
