

Nina Nesbitt - The Hardest Part

```
Tom: G
                                                                Please don't love another like you loved me
  Intro-
                                                                       Am7
                                                                'Cause time doesn't heal, it just leaves me asking why Verse1-
                                                                                          Em7
Pretend you're happy, pretend we're fine I'd give anything just to be with you again but it's not the right time
I guess that's easier after all this time
                                                                                              Fm7
                                                                And I'd give anything just to feel you on my skin
                             Em7
Talk about someone else then look in my eyes
I know you still hold on to us inside
                                                                But it's not the right time and it'll never be the right time,
                                                                will it?
                                                                And it might never be the right time and that's the hardest
                                                                part of it
But we watched that butterfly flv
                                                                 G Em7 C
Chorus-
                                                                Bridge-
                                                                And I don't know why I feel this way
                          Fm7
                                                                                              Am7
I'd give anything just to be with you again but it's not the
                                                                If I could I'd change, believe me
right time
                                                                I know that you feel the same, is it too late for saving?
And I'd give anything just to feel you on my skin
                                                                   Am7 -once
                                                                Oh here I go again
Fm7
But it's not the right time and it'll never be the right time,
                                                                'Cause I'd give anything just to be with you again but it's
will it?
                                                                not the right time
And it might never be the right time and that's the hardest
part of it
                                                                And I'd give anything just to feel you on my skin
G Em7 C
                                                                But it's not the right time and it'll never be the right time,
                                                                will it?
Verse 2-
                                                                It might never be the right time and that's the hardest part of it
I keep you in my mind even, though you've gone
                                                                G Em7
Holding on to nothing's easier than, letting go Stuck in the memory of what has been, just
                                                                It might never be the right time and that's the hardest part
