

Noel Gallagher - Freaky Teeth

Tom: A

(com acordes na forma de Capostrate na 2ª casa G)
Intro: 4x: Em Em Em Em

Well, they knew you were coming down
On the darkness at the edge of town
And they came to steal the lightning from the sky
Yeah, the push might come to shove
And your love might not be enough
To free you from the fears that paralyse

Yet they used to love you for the way you sang your soul
Now they've come to claim you through the night
The ghosts have come to steal the light outta your eyes

But your mama and your wife
Cuts your heart out with a knife
And they left you for the dogs to lick your bones
They made you cry the rain
But they love you just the same
Before your god, and the devil, took your soul

Tell me what did you bequeath
To the girl with the freaky teeth
Well, she shown you things she'd stolen from the queen
She'll have your hearts desire
As she danced back into the fire

With the Holy Men who stole your tambourine
Yet they used to love you for the way you sang your soul
Now they've come to claim you through the night
The ghosts have come to steal the light outta your eyes
But your mama and your wife
Cuts your heart out with a knife
And they left you for the dogs to lick your bones
They made you cry the rain
But they love you just the same
Before your god, and the devil, took your soul
The ghosts have come to steal the light outta your eyes

Solo: Am C G D
Am C B7
But your mama and your wife
Cuts your heart out with a knife
And they left you for the dogs to lick your bones
They made you cry the rain
But they love you just the same
Before your god, and the devil, touch your soul
Before your god, and the devil, touch your soul
Before your god, and the devil, touch your soul
Before your god, and the devil, touch your soul
