

Oh, Sleeper - Heavy Hands

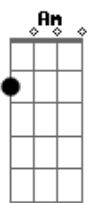

Tom:

Intro: Am C Em F

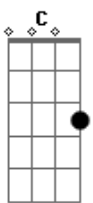

Am C
Em
Could it be the dream was meant to deceive?
F
When everything in me
Am C
Em
Bought that happiness would follow its lead
F
If only I believed
Am C Em
And now the choice is mine to let it die
F
And hope that I'll rise again
Am C Em
F
Because reveries of flight only left me questioning
F G Am
This was everything I wanted
C
And I can't believe I'm giving it up
F G Am
This was everything I waited for
C
But this armor doesn't shine anymore
F G Am
Am I this sword that sees no war?
C
Though broken my blood is warm
F G
Am C Em F
There's got to be something more, something more
Am C
Heavy hands holding the burden of change
F
The only cost is pain
Am C Em

The return is never promised to gain
F
It's time for the blind to find their way
Am C Em
And now the choice is mine to let it die
F
And hope that I'll rise again
Am C Em
F
Because reveries of flight only left me questioning
F G Am
This was everything I wanted
C
And I can't believe I'm giving it up
F G Am
This was everything I waited for
C
But this armor doesn't shine anymore
F G Am
Am I this sword that sees no war?
C
Though broken my blood is warm
F G Am
Am C Em F
There's got to be something more, something more
Something more
F G Am
This was everything I wanted
