                           tom:
                  Am

            Am                   C              F         Em
Welcome to the internet, we're living in a meme
Am      C      F                Em
Digital avatars hide behind their screens
             Am           C        F    Em
You can see it in your mentions
            Am            C        F       Em
We got demons in the comment section
Am           C          F    Em
Screaming for redemption
               Am          C       F      Em
'cause they don't get enough attention
Am              C            F           Em
Welcome to the inter-inter-inter-inter-internet
Am       C            F                  Em
Try to be mean to me 'cause you don't think with intellect
Am           C                 F            Em
Everybody spreading fingers, listen to the people of
Am          C              F           Em
Hiding on the internet are always talking trash
Am     C     F    Em
I try not to listen
Am       C      F    Em
Welcome to my prison
Am          C
I am so connected
     F                Em
But I still feel so alone
Am             C
   I'm trapped in your laptop
F                     Em
And I'm trapped inside your phone
Am              C             F           Em
Welcome to the internet, we're living in a meme
Am       C      F                Em
Digital avatars hide behind their screens
             Am           C        F    Em
You can see it in your mentions
            Am            C        F       Em
We got demons in the comment section
Am           C          F    Em

Screaming for redemption
               Am          C       F      Em
'cause they don't get enough attention
Am              C           F           Em
Welcome to the inter-inter-inter-inter-internet
Am              C             F                   Em
Where we are, rumors start, traveling through things they said
Am             C             F                 Em
Every lie and propaganda shoved into your face
Am             C                 F                        Em
Every time fake news tries to spread right through your veins

Am    C     F     Em
I do not believe it
Am          C           F     Em
Give me one good reason
Am                           C
   All the sheep that I talk to
F                    Em
Still can't read the room
Am                         C
   You can say what you want to
F                    Em
But the wolves will be there too

Am              C             F           Em
Welcome to the internet, we're living in a meme
Am       C      F                Em
Digital avatars hide behind their screens
             Am           C        F    Em
You can see it in your mentions
            Am            C        F       Em
We got demons in the comment section
Am           C          F    Em
Screaming for redemption
               Am          C       F      Em
'cause they don't get enough attention
[Final] Am  C  F  Em
        Am  C  F  Em
        Am  C  F  Em
