

Olivia O'Brien - We Lied To Each Other

You're a criminal and I am innocent
                            tom:
                                                                         Bm7
Intro: G7 Gb Bm7 E7
                                                                You're beautiful but the truth is ugly
[Primeira Parte]
                                                                I never had your bad intentions
                                                                    Gb
                                                                I just kinda sorta didn't mention
You say you built up walls
           Bm
                                                                That I want you 'cause I know you'll never love me
Baby, I built myself up a whole goddamn house
                                                                [Refrão]
          G
It's a hundred feet tall
                                                                Em7
         Bm7
Don't even try to break in, it's made to keep you out
                                                                So I lied when I said I don't care
[Pré-Refrão]
                                                                And you lied when you told me you did
   G
                                                                We lied to each other and it isn't fair
Every time I let somebody in
                                                                We lied to each other
                                                                ( A Em G Bm )
( A Em G Bm A )
They let me down, I can't come out again
And I build up the walls a little higher
                                                                [Ponte]
So I'm sorry if I don't believe your shit
                                                                     G
I just think I might be runnin' out of bricks
                                                                The only explanation
         Bm7
'Cause it turns out that everyone's a liar
                                                                For this sad situation
                                                                    Bm7
                                                                Is that I love to be in pain
[Refrão]
                                                                I don't think I'm worthy
Like I lied when I said I don't care
                                                                Don't think I'm deserving
And you lied when you told me you did
                                                                     Rm7
                                                                Of love, that's why I play these games
We lied to each other and it isn't fair
We lied to each other
           Gb
And I'd do it again
                                                                So I lied when I said I don't care
[Segunda Parte]
                                                                And you lied when you told me you did
                                                                We lied to each other and it isn't fair
I know if I saw you right now
        E7
                                                                We lied to each other
I would run away fast
         G
Or say, "I just wanna be friends"
                                                                We lied to each other
                                                                   Bm7
So you don't figure out that my walls are just glass
[Pré-Refrão]
                                                                We lied to each other
                                                                   Bm7
                                                                We lied to each other
The problem is that there's a difference
                                                                And I'd do it again
