

One Direction - Already Home

tom:
 I've been waiting, every day since
 The last time we met, I can't forget what we parted ways with I see your face and Can't stop looking
 I swear that these words haven't been heard
 In the way I mean them
 Is this really happening?
 This is really happening
 Can this keep on happening?
 Together we're alone, both of us agreeing
 No one needs to know, that you're already home
 You don't have to go, but you're already leaving
 Can we start believing? You're already home?
 You don't have to go, 'cause you're already home?
 We can't sleep in, for good reason
 A bottle of wine, pretending it's fine
 You breathe out I breathe in We've been stealing, moments, feelings
 We know it's not right, your car is outside with a cold seat and

Is this really happening?
 This is really happening
 Can this keep on happening?
 Together we're alone, both of us agreeing
 No one needs to know, that you're already home
 You don't have to go, but you're already leaving
 Can we start believing? That you're already home
 You don't have to go, 'cause you're already home
 Oh
 You don't have to go, 'cause you're already home
 In alleyways, and fire escapes corridors, I see your face
 From aeroplanes to the bullet trains summer skies to the pouring rain
 All the future plans we will never make from a beating heart to
 The farthest place
 You're already home
 You're already home
 Ooh Ooh
 Ooh Ooh
