 Trying to mean it
 May all life be measured in us
 This measure, is it listless?
 I didn't catch what has left us alone

And if it rains
 We're gonna tumble and fly
 ?Cause it rains life is born in our world
 Is this a dream?

The grass starting to grow just in time to be a gift to our eyes

Now is the time!
 It's something girl!
 Can you imagine how that makes us alive?

It's something girl!

 Sunday morning I try to see life in a better way for me
 Trying to have a fine time

With a dancer and a singer in the sky

And so the boy started to cry out loud
 And running through the forest trees
 So the robot inside the homeless guy
 Locked its tower in this restless rain
 And if it starts to rain we won't cry no more
 ?Cause when it stops to rain the sun will shine
 I love when it starts to rain! To see the trial!
 And then the strangers are going to stare away
 Please don't forget to run into the forest again

And then imagine that life will try to refrain
 Imagine that colors and flowers will grow with the rain
 Then again
 If it rains we will try again
 If it rains, rains
 If it rains
 Please stop running from the rain
 Please stop running from the rain
