

Pain of Salvation - Sisters

tom:

Intro: Dm C Bb Dm

When all are dizzy and happy from too much wine
 I leave the party behind
 To walk alone with my thoughts and this spinning mind
 Through this cold night
 But there she stands

And she walks like you
 And she smiles almost like you
 A child of the wild just like you

(Yes)
 (Dm C Bb)

For a second, I think I get a glimpse
 Of the real her behind
 She's warm and fragile with smiles that reach to her eyes
 For just this moment
 A change so sublime

If she'd looked me deep into my eyes and softly asked me to I'd be in her bed and in her flesh and waste the life I knew
 So I hold my breath and close my eyes and focus on the wine
 Let this trembling moment pass us by, so I could say goodnight

But then, an impulse, I almost touch her face Before I pull back my hand.
 God, help me say goodnight

And we get nervous, we laugh and she spills her wine
 Both so awkward
 For what's on our mind

And she talks like you
 And she smells almost like you
 A child of the wild just like you
 But she's not all you
 Even strives not to be you
 Just like every sister would do

And perhaps it's the want
 Or that you're in her eyes
 But I want her this one single time
 (Just this one time)
 (Dm C Bb)

 I'd be in her bed and in her flesh and waste the life I
 wine
 Let this trembling moment pass us by, and then we'll say goodnight

And if I'd look into her eyes and softly asked her to
 She would give herself and give her flesh, and waste the life she knew
 So we hold our breaths and close our eyes and take a sip of wine
 But this thirst has emptied every glass, and we should say goodnight
 God, help me say goodnight
