You wake up every morning looking for your answer

You're waiting for your sign, while jeremiah's on his way to tell the people

But you watch him pass you by
D C G

( D D C G )

You walk the streets at night still looking for your reason,
C G D

but you don't want to try
D C G D

You swear the world has got you backed into a corner
D C G

But no one holds your hand to walk into a fight

You swear the light is gonna find you
A G

But it can't find you if you're waiting all the time
A C G

You say, "keep my head from going down" / just for a little,
D C G just for a little

Watch my feet float off the ground, just for a little, just
D C G for a little

A little love if you can hear this sound, oh just give me
D C G something something to believe in

( D D C G )

You spend your days alone still hoping for the truth, oh, but
D C G D

all you hear are lies

But no one else is going to tell you what to do now
D C G

No one else is going to help you hold the line

Sometimes it's hard to keep on living
A G

But you're the one who's go to know just when it's right
A C G

You say, "keep my head from going down" / just for a little,
D C G just for a little

Watch my feet float off the ground, just for a little, just
D C G for a little

A little love if you can hear this sound, oh just give me
D C G something something to believe in
