

Paramore - Hate To See Your Heart Break

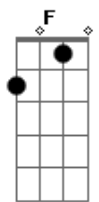

Tom: F

(com acordes na forma de Capotraste na 5ª casa C)

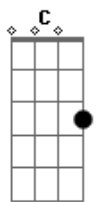

There is not a single word
 In the whole world
 That could describe the hurt
 The dulllest knife just sawing back and forth
 Ripping through the softest skin there ever was
 How were you to know?
 How were you to know?
 And I, I hate to see your heart break
 I hate to see your eyes get darker as they close
 But I've been there before
 And I, I hate to see your heart break
 I hate to see your eyes get darker as they close
 But I've been there before
 Love happens all the time
 To people who aren't kind
 And heroes who are blind
 Expecting perfect scripted movie scenes
 Who wants an awkward silence mystery?

How were you to know?
 How were you to know?
 And I, I hate to see your heart break
 I hate to see your eyes get darker as they close
 But I've been there before
 And I, I hate to see your heart break
 I hate to see your eyes get darker as they close
 But I've been there before
 For all the air that's in your lungs
 For all the joy that is to come
 For all the things that you're alive to feel
 Just let the pain remind you hearts can heal
 How were you to know?
 How were you to know?
 And I, I hate to see your heart break
 I hate to see your eyes get darker as they close
 But I've been there before
 And I, I hate to see your heart break
 I hate to see your eyes get darker as they close
 But I've been there before
