Paramore - Tell Me How

```
Tom: F
                                                              Do I suffocate or let go?
Intro: C C Bb
C C Bb
                                                              Rb
CF
                                                              Tell me how to feel about you now
CF
                                                              Bb
                                                              Tell me how to feel about you now
            С
         С
                  Bb
                                                               C F
I can't call you a stranger
                                                              Oh, let me know
              C C
                                                                               F
                                                                   F
                    Bb
But I can't call you
                                                              Do I suffocate or let go?
         C
I know you think that I erased you
                                                              Bb
                                                                   C Bb C
       C
                             F
You may hate me but I can't hate you
       F
                F
                                                              You keep me up with your silence
And I won't replace you
                                                                                      Am
                                                               Take me down with your quiet
Bb
                                                                  F
                                                                                      Abm
Tell me how to feel about you now
                                                              Of all the weapons you fight with
Bb
Tell me how to feel about you now
                                                              Your silence is the most violent
C F
Oh, let me know
                                                              Bb
    F
                F
                                                              Tell me how to feel about you now
Do I suffocate or let go?
                                                              Bb
                                                              Tell me how to feel about you now
                          Bb
                                                               C F
Think I'm tired of getting over it
                                                              Oh, let me know
     С
                       Bb
                                                                   F
                                                                               F
Just starting something new again
                                                              Do I suffocate or let go?
         С
                         F
                                                              Bb
I'm getting sick of the beginnings
                                                              Tell me how to feel about you now
    C
                   F
                                                              Bb
And always coming
                     to your defences
                                                              Tell me how to feel about you now
           С
                          Bb
                                                              C F
I guess it's good to get it off my chest
                                                              Oh, let me know
                                                                               E
          C
                                                                   F
                           Bb
I guess I can't believe I haven't yet
                                                              Do I suffocate or let go?
           С
                         F
You know I got my own convictions
                                                              Bb
                                                                  С
            C
                                                              F
And they're stronger than any addiction
        C
                 Am7
                                                                                 Bb
But no one's winning
                                                               You don't have to tell me
                                                                          Bb
                                                              If you ever think of me
Bb
Tell me how to feel about you now
Bb
                                                               I know you say you're busy
Tell me how to feel about you now
                                                               In the wild fog of your memory
                                                              You don't have to tell me
C F
Oh, let me know
                                                                           Bb
                                                              I can still believe
    F
Acordes
                                BЬ
                                             An7
                                                          Abn
                                                                        An
```

Abm

Am

Abm

Oferecimento Lojalele.com.br