VERSE I

D                                    A
If I had me a million I would build you a mansion,
   G                              A
a hundred miles from nowhere with all a girl could need,
      D                              A
We would run through the hallways and dance out in the backyard,
   G                           A
if we ain't got no neighbors ain't noone will see.

VERSE II

     D                           A
and if I had me a speed plane we'd fly across the land,
G                        A
settle in some little border town,
     D                       A
we'd drink some margaritas and dance to mariachis,
G                          A                 D
put you on my speed plane and I would bring you back home.

VERSE III

      D                           A
and if I had me a steamboat we'd sail across the ocean blue, G                         A
dock in some little port of call,
D                         A
we would have a fine time with Swiss cheese and French wine,
G                          A
put you on my steamboat and I would bring you back home.

D   A   G   A   D   A   G   A

      D                           A
But I ain't got a million and I ain't got a speed plane,
G                        A
I ain't got no boat upon the sea,
          D                              A
all I've got are these two strong arms and i can hold you so tightly,
       G                       A                    D
so baby won't you, won't you please, come back home to me.

            D                              A
all I've got are these two strong arms and I can hold you so
tightly,
       G                       A                    D
so baby won't you, won't you please, come back home to me.
