

Patti Smith - People Have The Power

```
People have the power
                                                                                                                                   tom:
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       People have the power
                                                        [Primeira Parte]
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       People have the power
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       People have the power
I was dreaming in my dreaming
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       ( D G D G )
( D G D G )
Of an aspect bright and fair
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       [Terceira Parte]
And my sleeping, it was broken
But my dream it lingered near \frac{D}{C}
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              D
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     Where there were deserts I saw fountains \begin{tabular}{c} \begin{t
In the form of shining valleys \overset{\circ}{D}
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      Like cream the waters rise D G
Where the pure air recognised
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      And we strolled there together
And my senses newly opened \frac{1}{D}
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     With none to laugh or criticise D G
I awakened to the cry
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      And the leopard and the lamb D
 [Pré-Refrão]
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      Lay together truly bound \stackrel{\text{D}}{\text{O}}
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      I was hoping in my hoping
That the people have the power
To redeem the work of fools
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       To recall what I had found
Upon the meek the graces shower
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       [Pré-Refrão]
It's decreed, the people rule
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      I was dreaming in my dreaming \frac{D}{D}
 [Refrão]
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     God knows a purer view
Gbm
(
People have the power
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      As I lay down to my sleeping
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       I commit my dream to you
People have the power
                                                                D G
People have the power
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       [Refrão]
People have the power
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       People have the power
  ( D G D G )
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     Em
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      People have the power
 [Segunda Parte]
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           D
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       People have the power
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           Fm
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       People have the power
Vengeful aspects became suspect
                                                      D
And bending low as if to hear \frac{D}{G}
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         D
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     The power to dream, to rule
And the armies ceased advancing
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      To wrestle the world from fools D G
                                            D
Because the people had their ear \frac{D}{C}
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       It's decreed, the people rule
And the shepherds and the soldiers \overset{\text{D}}{\text{O}}
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       It's decreed, the people rule
Lay beneath among the stars % \left( 1\right) =\left( 1\right) \left( 1
                                      D
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      Listen, \bar{I} believe everything we dream \bar{Em}
Exchanging visions and laying arms \frac{D}{G}
To waste in the dust
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      Can come to pass through our union
 [Pré-Refrão]
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      We can turn the world around
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      We can turn the earth's revolution
In the form of shining valleys

D

Em
Where the pure air recognised $\operatorname{\mathsf{Gbm}}$
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       People have the power
And my senses newly opened
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       People have the power
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           D
I awakened to the cry
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       People have the power
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      People have the power
 [Refrão]
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      The power to dream, to rule
```

It's decreed, the people rule  $\begin{tabular}{c} Em & A \end{tabular}$  It's decreed, the people rule

Acordes

