

Paul McCartney - Mistress And Maid

Tom: G

She said
 G7 come in my dear, you're looking tired tired tonight your bath is drawn, let me B7 Em B7 loosen your tie and fix you your usual D7 drink

He settles back, takes a magazine kicks off his shoes, as he studies the form of every appealing soubrette

Gm But where are the flowers that he used to A7 Dm Gm bring every endearing remark reminds her C Gm A7 of passionate promise that he only made D in the dark Eb Em in her bed, she wants to shout at the back of his head D Eb look at me, look at me, look at me I'm Em Cm afraid see what it's come to I'm just G7 mistress and maid.

The wine is warm, but the dinner is cold the look in his eyes tells her it won't be long till the girls on the page come to life

And they'll get the flowers that he used to bring with every endearing remark, and all of the passionate promises he'll never fulfill in the dark in their bed, she wants to shout at the back of his head look at me, look at me, now that I'm not afraid see what it's come to

Cm G7 I'm not your mistress and maid Em Cm see what it's come to I'm not your G7 mistress and maid
