

Pearl Jam - Mind Your Manners

Tom: C
Intro:

Riff 1

I got an unfortunate feeling i've been beated down

I feel like i don't believe and now the trust is coming out

What they've taken is more than a vow

They've taken your innocence and now they throw on the burning fire

All along they're saying
Mind your manners

I caught myself believing that i needed god

And if it's out there somewhere we sure could use it now

Tried my patience, my patience tried

This world's no longer good enough, that makes me wanna cry

All along they're saying
Mind your manners
Always waiting!

Self realizing that I'm physically redeemed
May not live another life

May not solve our mystery
Right around the corner
Could be bigger than ourselves
We could wail it to the sky
Or we could something else

Nessa parte, enquanto é feito o solo, a guitarra base continua no primeiro riff

All along they're saying
Mind your manners
Always waiting!

Self realizing that I'm physically redeemed
May not live another life
May not solve our mystery
Right around the corner
Could be bigger than ourselves
We could wail it to the sky
Or we could something else

Go to heaven, that swell.
How do you like, living hell?

Go to heaven, that swell.
How do you like, living hell?

Go to heaven, that swell.
How do you like, living hell?
LIVING HELL!!!
