

Pedro Vulpe - Wrong

Tom: A
                                                               I don't know how to fight against a love that went wrong
(forma dos acordes no tom de G )
Capostraste na 2ª casa
                                                               (Wrong) was I when I belived in your voice?
Intro: C Am
    C
                                                               Now, here we are, and I think there's no choice
The sunset gives shades of red to my eyes
                                                               It all comes undone and I wish more to say
This warm velvet comes to please the landscape
                                                               Wish to be wrong and a reason to stay
Is there a plenty of time for you to wander inside of your dreams
                                                               Instead, I walk down a dark lonely road
And tell me if it's all about ourselves? Or somebody else?
                                                               I still feel you but there's no love anymore
Unlock the door and take your place
                                                               We say "no regrets" but it won't last for long
It won't be too long untill we solve what we said
                                                                                     Fm
                                                               Assured that it's over, wanted to be wrong
No room left for all the words untold
                                                               (C Am C Am)
                   Am
And dismay took the part of something
                                                                     F7M
That once brought our hands into knots
                                                               I used to see myself in you
                                                               Then, I forgot who I was ( C Am )

                                                                           Am
                                                               There's no point to stepping foward
I used to see myself in you
                                                                           D7
                                                               There's no feeling in my heart
Then, I forgot who I was F7M
            Αm
There's no point to stepping foward
                                                               I don't know how to fight against a love that went wrong
            D7
There's no feeling in my heart
