Phantom Planet - Lonely Day

Tom: A

```
   A       D             A             D
I could tell from the minute I woke up
                      A              D
It was going to be a lonely lonely lonely lonely
A     D
day.
A        D             A              D
Rise and shine rub the sleep out of my eyes
          A             D                A    D
And try to tell myself I can't go back to bed
                Bm            E             A     D
It's gonna be a lonely lonely lonely lonely day.
A    D

A    D                  A               D
Even though the sun is shining down on me and I
       A             D             A    D
should feel about as happy as can be
A          D             A              D
I just got here and I already want to leave
                A             D             A    D
It's gonna be a lonely lonely lonely lonely day
                Bm            E             A
It's gonna be a lonely lonely lonely lonely day
                Bm            E             A
It's gonna be a lonely lonely lonely lonely day

          Gbm                    B7
Everybody knows that something's wrong
          Gbm                B7
But nobody knows what's going on
       D                   A
We all sing the same old song
          E7
When you want it all to go away
                                A    D A D A D A D
It's shaping up to be a lonely day

A       D             A             D
```

```
I could tell from the minute I woke up
                      A              D
It was going to be a lonely lonely lonely lonely
A     D
day.
                Bm            E             A
It's gonna be a lonely lonely lonely lonely day

          Gbm                    B7
Everybody knows that something's wrong
          Gbm                B7
But nobody knows what's going on
       D                   A
We all sing the same old song
          E7
When you want it all to go away
                                A    D A D A D A D
It's shaping up to be a lonely day

A       D             A             D
I could tell from the minute I woke up
                      A              D
It was going to be a lonely lonely lonely lonely
A     D
day.
                Bm            E
It's gonna be a lonely lonely lonely lonely
A lonely....
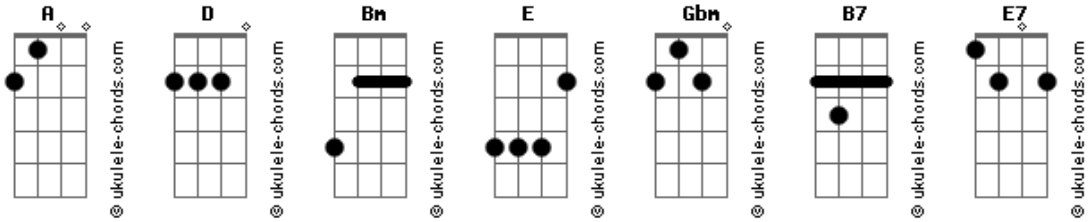
          D          E           A
Everybody knows that something's wrong
          D            E     A
But nobody knows what's going on

          D          E           A
Everybody knows that something's wrong
          D            E     A   D A D A
But nobody knows what's going on
          D            E     A   D A D A
But nobody knows what's going on
```

Acordes



Oferecimento Lojalele.com.br