

Pierce The Veil - One Hundred Sleepless Nights

```
Tom: Gb
                                                                And we will feast together till the bones are dry.
  Verso 1:
                                                                Pre-Refrão:
       Ebm
I can't wait to see your brilliant face
                                                                But I don't see your face,
Light up the room around the pillowcase
                                                                Taken by the one hearted race home now,
           Ebm
She said, "Can you come over to my LA place
                                                                But, don't tell your other man, he's not a part of the plan
I got something to tell you and it just can't wait"
                                                                Refrão:
                             Db
When I showed up you held the door in tears
                                                                Fhm
                                                                                          B
                                                                Failing lights amass one hundred sleepless nights
Sat on the couch under the chandeliers.
                                                                And I might be holding on too tight
                Ebm
You said you're having a baby and before I could cry
                                                                                Bb
                                                                But there is a beast in my heart
                                 Bb
You're leaving me just when I thought you were mine.
                                                                And he won't let you leave alive
Pre-Refrão:
                                                                Ponte:
But I don't see your face,
                                                                Do you still love me? I am dying to know.
Taken by the one hearted race home now,
                                                                             Gb
                                                                Or did you forget what we shared?
But, don't tell your other man, I got a hell of a plan
                                                                Out of sight out of mind I was never even there

Failing lights amass one hundred sleepless nights
                                                                Failing lights amass one hundred sleepless nights
And I might be holding on too tight
                                                                And I might be holding on too tight

                                                                                Bh
But there is a beast in my heart
                                                                But there is a beast in my heart
                              Ebm (one strum)
And he won't let you leave alive
                                                                And he won't let you leave alive
Verso 2:
                                                                Outro:

Nightmares no longer wait for sleep
                                                                This is the price you'll pay
Crawl on the ground on both your hands and knees
                                                                Thoughts in your head that will never die.
Just like a, lion and you're the queen of the pride
                                                                So don't you forget what we had
                                                                It's like I was never even there
