

Priscilla Ahn - Red Cape

Tom: D

<sup>D</sup>
I'm alive should have died in a plane crash
<sup>G</sup>
Four long years ago
<sup>D</sup>
Lost my hope, couldn't cope
<sup>G</sup>
With my fear of news on the radio
<sup>Em</sup>
But I've got a long red cape
<sup>G</sup>
That's caught in the engine of a plane
<sup>D</sup> <sup>G</sup>
That's flying way too low
<sup>D</sup> <sup>G</sup>
Yesterday a hurricane had blown away my long red cape
<sup>Em</sup> <sup>A</sup>
And I, feel satisfied

<sup>D A G A</sup>
(vocalizing)

<sup>D</sup>
I'm in peace, I feel sweetly released
<sup>G</sup>
From all that I couldn't let go.
<sup>D</sup>
If I knew, what to do

The I guess I'd finally feel anew
<sup>Em</sup>
But I can't wear my red cape
<sup>G</sup>
'Cause I would be repeating a mistake
<sup>D</sup> <sup>G</sup>
I just gotta let it go
<sup>Em</sup> <sup>A</sup>
I just gotta let it go

(x2)

<sup>D</sup>
Yesterday a hurricane
<sup>G</sup>
Had blown away my long red cape
<sup>Em</sup>
And I, I, I
<sup>G</sup>
Feel satisfied (-ied, -ied)

<sup>D A G A</sup>
(vocalizing)

<sup>D</sup> <sup>G</sup>
Yesterday a hurricane had blown away my long red cape,
<sup>Em</sup> <sup>A</sup>
And I feel satisfied
