

Quinn XCII - Always Been You

Tom: G

No one even cares

Tell my friends that I don't need you

Last time we spoke was spring break in that see-through Conversation we had in the ocean with them waves

Brought me down, down, down

I need you more than I need me

Turned 25, and I feel that I'm peaking

You're in Detroit, when I call you, you're sleeping

That's bringing me down, down, down

Ooooh

Am I wasting my breath?

Ooooh

You're not even upset

When's the last time that you called me just to say hi?

Claiming that you don't remember things that I said to you

Acting all sly, sly

Am I supposed to say that I'm thriving?

That I got girls on the side? 'Cause I don't

It's always been you

Yeah, I don't

It's always been you

Message you, but it's a typo

Telling your friends that I'm acting all psycho

Got my attention when you call me Michael

That's bringing me down, down, down

Remember nights when you undressed

Valley to Venice, top down with your sundress

Then I say one thing that makes you so upset

That brings you down, down, down

Ooooh

Am I wasting my breath?

Ooooh

You're not even upset

When's the last time that you called me just to say hi?

Claiming that you don't remember things that I said to you

Acting all sly, sly

Am I supposed to say that I'm thriving?

That I got girls on the side? 'Cause I don't

It's always been you

Yeah, I don't

It's always been you

For some reason, you don't think

That you're the one for me, for me

For some reason, you don't think

That you're the one for me, for me

When's the last time that you called me just to say hi? (Just to say hi?)

Claiming that you don't remember things that I said to you

Acting all sly, sly (Acting all sly)

Am I supposed to say that I'm thriving?

That I got girls on the side? 'Cause I don't (I don't)

It's always been you

Yeah, I don't

It's always been you
