

Rafael Bittencourt - Holding Back The Fire

Tom: E

Afinação: Eb Ab Db Gb Bb

Intro: Abm Abm6 Abm Gb Abm E E-

Abm Abm6 B A E Gb

Abm E Abm

Lay down and surrender you soldier in arms

You war will be over when you find peace inside

There ain't no way around it no reason to fight

Life's worthwhile when you forget you're gonna die

For this minute I'm just fine

All my anger settles down

I'm holding back the fire holding back the fire

Words are washing away like the paths of my tears

Realigning my thoughts through the pages of the years

Stop making it worse! Must accept what you're got!

Don't live your tomorrows as just another day

Turn another page and live your life and live your life

But my heart still bleeds

It's ripping the scars

I'm bearing the suffering with thorns wounding my heart

I refuse to see! Am I going blind?

Can't run from the burning when the smoke is in your eyes

You're the only one to be blamed

It's your own sacrifice

Pré-solo: Abm Gb Abm A

Solo: (Ocultei os acordes do solo para simplificar)

Abm E Abm

Stop looking for justice that is not how it works

Don't leave for tomorrow what you can do today

What you can do today is change your life, change your life

But my heart still bleeds

Oh! It's ripping the scars

I'm bearing the suffering with thorns wounding my heart

I refuse to see! Am I going blind?

Can't run from the burning when the smoke is in your eyes

It's in your eyes!

For this minute I'm just fine

All my anger settles down

I'm holding back the fire, holding back the fire

That is ripping my scars

I am bearing the suffering

Holding back the fire

Beware of your anger your heart's still on fire

Your war can't be won until you find some peace inside

Lay down and surrender

You soldier in arms

Can't run from the burning when you're holding back the fire

Now my anger settles down
