This is my first attempt at writing tab, so if I screwed up I'm sorry. Here's some notes you should know about the song.

First off, most of the songs on the new album have Tom Morrellos guitar tuned down on the 4th 5th and 6th strings. If you play without doing this, it will be a couple of octaves higher but should still sound okay.

Acordes

The Solo is basically him sliding on the 3rd string back and forth from the 7th fret to the 9th while tremolo picking like mad. Throw in a few effects, then it switches to open Wah-Wah, and finally end it with a few blues notes bent up.

Wah or just bend the notes.

Pre Chorus

Chorus (relate to the matter as I drop the bomb)
