tom:
 Intro: C
 F
 Good morning
 F
 Mother Nature / painted a sky for us this dawning C
 C
 She took some crimson reds, and melts them into oranges F
 F
 She hides the moon behind the curtains safe out of sight C
 C
 Then, she'll open them up / to prepare for the night

F
 As she breathes and she blows
 F
 The trees, they stretch their arms
 Am
 As they dance, they've rehearsed it
 Am
 The ocean roars / like a thousand lions standing proud G
 F Am
 Oh, Mother Nature, you'r? just showin' off now

[Ponte]

Am Em
 As it rains
 Dm Am
 How she cries

For as she burns for us
 Sh? /still /turns /for us

F
 And, so, she will provide

C
 For as long, oh, as long as she can
 F C
 She'll be beautiful, so beautiful
 C
 For as much as she can stand
 F
 Forgive us, Mother Nature
 Am
 For we know not what we do
 G
 But in her dress of green and blue
 F
 She still turns, she still turns, and she's still turning
 F
 And, so, she will provide
 C
 For as long, oh, as long as she can
 F C
 She'll be beautiful, so beautiful
 C
 For as much as she can stand
 F
 Forgive us, Mother Nature
 Am
 For we know not what we do
 G
 But in her dress of green and blue
 F
 She still turns, she still turns, and she's still turning
 In a dress of green and blue
 And she's still turning, hmm
