tom:
Intro: C
F
Good morning
F
Mother Nature / painted a sky for us this dawning C
C
She took some crimson reds, and melts them into oranges F
F
She hides the moon behind the curtains safe out of sight C
C
Then, she'll open them up / to prepare for the night

F
As she breathes and she blows
F
The trees, they stretch their arms
Am
As they dance, they've rehearsed it
Am
The ocean roars / like a thousand lions standing proud G
F Am
Oh, Mother Nature, you'r? just showin' off now

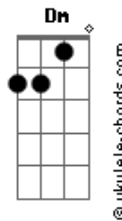

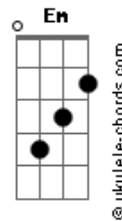

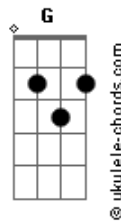

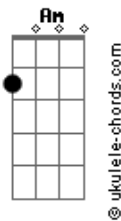

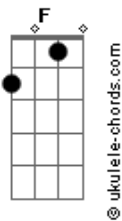

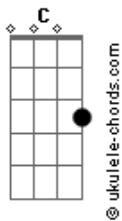

[Ponte]

Am Em
As it rains
Dm Am
How she cries

For as she burns for us
Sh? /still /turns /for us

F
And, so, she will provide

C
For as long, oh, as long as she can
F C
She'll be beautiful, so beautiful
C
For as much as she can stand
F
Forgive us, Mother Nature
Am
For we know not what we do
G
But in her dress of green and blue
F
She still turns, she still turns, and she's still turning
F
And, so, she will provide
C
For as long, oh, as long as she can
F C
She'll be beautiful, so beautiful
C
For as much as she can stand
F
Forgive us, Mother Nature
Am
For we know not what we do
G
But in her dress of green and blue
F
She still turns, she still turns, and she's still turning
In a dress of green and blue
And she's still turning, hmm
