

Rebecca Kilgore - I've Got A Feelin' You're Foolin'

```
Tom: A
                                                                 Moments of paradise
                              Bm7 A D A
   Α
              Fdim
                                                                                Gbm
I've got a feelin' you're foolin'
A Gb7 A Edim
I've got a feelin' you're havin' fun
E D Bm7 E7 D7M
                                                                  You're such a stand out, but how you hand out
                                                                    E D Bm7 E7
                                                                  The hocus pocus from your eyes
                                        Fdim E7 A
                                                                             Edim
                                                                                     Bm7 A D A
                                                                 I've got a feelin' you're foolin'
A Gb7 A Edim
I'll get a go by when you are done foolin' \hfill \ensuremath{\mbox{\sc with me}}
           Edim Bm7 A D A
                                                                                      Α
                                                                  I've got a feelin' it's all a frame
I've got a feelin' you're foolin'
          Gb7
                    A Edim
                                                                              D
I've got a notion it's make believe
                                                                  Gb7
             D Bm7 E7 D7M
                                                                 It's just the well known old army game foolin'
                                               Fdim E7 A
                                                                                                                          with vou
                                                                 E Gb7 D B7 D7M Di
I've got a feelin', a feelin' you're foolin', foolin'
I think you're laughin' right up your sleeve foolin' with
                                                                                                                        Dm Fdim A
Life is worth living while you are giving
```

Acordes

