

Rhapsody - Legendary Tales

tom:

Dm

And darkness covers all the land

The silent river flows

The jesters dance around the flame

Playing an ancient song

A song of mighty warriors

Of epic bloody fights

While moonlight meets the manor's walls

And I must close my eyes

Another tale of infinite wars

For the defenders of holy light

The fire enters my mind

The blood of the innocent before my eyes

Spreading the wings of the dream

I want to win between fire and steel

For them all

For them all

Some knights sleep near fire

Drowned in their own red wine

The elder looks at the high flame

Knowing the fight will reprise

The magic twittering of the birds

Meets the light of dawn

The ancient song is fading now

But my old dream carries on

Another tale of infinite wars

For the defenders of holy light

The fire enters my mind

The blood of the innocent before my eyes

Spreading the wings of the dream

I want to win between fire and steel

For them all
