

Richie Sambora - Take Me On

tom:

Intro: D Bm A G

You've been out all night, that's right

Underneath your black umbrella

Head moves round the right, so tight

Not me or angels in the sky, they don't lie

You walked by, this empty street

I'm hoping that our eye's might meet

Your hearts too blind to see me

That's the price of being lonely

You want real love, you think that you're tough enough

Take Me On, Take me on

You wanna be turned around, you want to touch higher ground

For the love that you've been missing

If you think that you're not strong

Take Me On

In a small cafe, all day

Staring in a cup of Coffee

Time just slips away

Smoking you're last cigarette, with no regret

I say hello, you look away

There's a smile behind your face

There's something more between us

But your hearts too blind to say

You want real love, you think that you're tough enough

Take Me On, Take me on

You wanna be turned around, you want to touch higher ground

For the love that you've been missing

If you think that you're not strong

Take Me On

[Ponte]

There's a face in every window, a light goes out

Someones alone

You wake up in the morning, it's another day

Another chance gone, gone

You want real love, you think that you're tough enough

Take Me On, Take me on

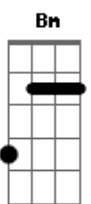

You wanna be turned around, you want to touch higher ground

For the love that you've been missing

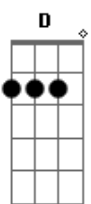

If you think that you're not strong
