

Ron Gallo - Young Lady, You're Scaring Me

tom:

Intro: E D A C E

E D Let's get a house, you and me and your twelve cats
 A We'll put mirrors on the ceiling
 E We'll have a bunk bed by the bath
 E D You'll line my mattress with nails
 A One for every time something psycho came out of your mouth
 E Your cavern eyes are preying
 D Your scarlet lips half saying
 A E A sales pitch for the circus in your mind
 [Refrão]

D A E Young lady, you're scaring me
 [Riff]

D A E Young lady, you're scaring me
 [Riff 1]

E Dumbbell right to the temple
 D Carry me to your shrine
 A Dedicated to the prince of the last of your nine lives
 E D She waited in the darkest corner all night

A E Until I closed up shop, I turned out the lights
 E D Then she begged for me to drive her home
 A E I thought about the Kensington Strangler as I was about to say no
 (E D A E)

E D When we pulled up to her bleeding dollhouse
 A She said, "Park behind the hearse?"
 E I said, "No need, get out and take your purse?"
 [Refrão]

D A E Young lady, you're scaring me
 [Riff]

D A E Young lady, you're scaring me
 [Riff]

E D Remember that time you wrote me two hundred letters
 A E Never once to a single reply
 E D Remember they all referenced a love that wasn't real
 A E Considering we talked maybe one or two times

[Refrão]
 D A E Young lady, you're scaring me
 [Riff]

D A E Young lady, you're scaring me
 [Riff 1]

(E D A E)

Acordes

