

Ron Pope - Meaning-Meaningless

Tom: D

This is the riff that plays during the intro, and the break between the chorus and verse 2 (for this break, just play the first line). Listen out to the song for timing, but it's basically just on the offbeat.

Intro: D A Bm G
D A Bm G

Verse 1

In the sweet embrace of twilight
Just before the night time came
All her children in the front yard
There was laughter on the breeze
Then a call came from her father
In his house halfway 'cross town
He said "Love, I hate to tell you,
But your mother, she's gone now."

Chorus

And time, moving quickly before our eyes
Oh why do these moments seem to fly?

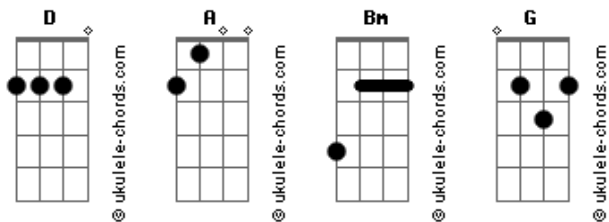

D A Bm G

Verse 2

So she tries to tell her husband
But she cannot make a sound
And he hears through all the silence
So before she hits the ground
He says "Baby, are you with me?"
And she opens up her eyes
And she says "I lost my mother,"
And a piece of her heart dies

Chorus

Acordes

And time, moving quickly before our eyes
Oh why do these moments seem to fly?
And time, moving quickly before our eyes
Oh why do these moments seem to fly?
I am trapped and wondering why ...

Verse 3

Now it's late and she is restless
All her girls are tucked in bed
She is searching for a meaning
When all words feel meaningless
And the hardest part of losing
Is the memory of the win
And the hardest part of letting go
Is when you know you never can
Yeah, the hardest part of letting go
Is when you know you never can

Chorus

And time, moving quickly before our eyes
Oh why do these moments seem to fly?
And time, moving quickly before our eyes
Oh why do these moments seem to fly?
I am trapped and wondering why ...
Moving quickly before our eyes

This is the guitar riff for the bridge - again, listen to the song for the rhythm.

Riff for the outro (very similar to first line of bridge)
