 She said, "There are things about you I don't really understand."
Bm G D
 I am drinking in the afternoon, got whiskey on my breath.
D
 And as I walk through Greenwich Village, with a suitcase full of clothes,
Bm G D
 I am blinded by the afternoon and unsure where to go.
Bm G D
 I am blinded by the afternoon and unsure where to go.

G Bm
 Will you come for me on days like this when I am broken down?
G Bm
 'Cause I've been strangled by an emptiness that's still choking me now.
G Bm A G
 I have prayed for absolution that won't ever come around,
Bm A? D
 So if you love me, won't you please forgive me now?

D G D
 Then I try to call my mother, but she's not around to talk,
Bm G D
 So I wander through the fading day, oblivious and lost.
D G
 Yes I know I'm getting older, chasing time that slips away.

D
 Point my headlights towards the interstate, it's time for my escape.
Bm G
D
 Point my headlights towards the interstate, it's time for my escape.

G Bm
 I am sorry for the things I've done; don't try to let you down.
G Bm
 In my dreams at night I hear your voice, and I'm shaken by the sound.
G Bm A G
 Now I'm stranded in Los Angeles and you're all I think about.
Bm A? D
 So if you love me, won't you please forgive me now?
G D
 I hope there's a million stars above you,
G D
 And everything you need, I hope it finds you.
G D
 Every breath you breathe, hope it comes easy,
A
 I hope it's easy.

D G D
 I've got a picture in my wallet of a girl I used to know,
Bm G D
 And another of my family, it's been too long since I've been home.
D G D
 Now I'm waiting on a train. Where I'll end up, God only knows.
Bm G D
 Maybe I'll make my way back to her, but I guess I probably won't.
Bm G D
 Maybe I'll make my way back to her, but I guess I probably won't.
G Bm
 You are somewhere far away from me; I'm here all by myself.
G Bm
 Through the space between the two of us, wish I had something else.
G Bm A
G
 'Cause I'd surrender up most anything if I thought it'd help somehow.
Bm A D
 So if you love me, won't you please forgive me now?
Bm A D
 If you love me, won't you please forgive me now?
